

SATELLITE-BASED GLANCE INTO TODAY, SUNDAY 01 DECEMBER 2024

WEATHER REPORT & Forecast

The first day of December 2024 was mostly sunny and hot across the country and became mild towards evening as relatively dry air circulated over much of the country. However, a few clouds can be noted over Zambia indicating the proximity of the rain-bearing Inter-Tropical Convergence Zone (ITCZ), which should descend into the northern parts of Zimbabwe later this month.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR: MONDAY 02 DECEMBER 2024

Morning: Mild with clear skies countrywide.

Afternoon: Mostly sunny and hot in all areas.

Overnight: Clear skies and mild conditions.

IMPACTS & ACTIONS TO TAKE:

- Stay hydrated and avoid exposure to direct sunlight whenever possible.
- If you need to be outdoors for a prolonged period, have a sunhat or umbrella to protect yourself from direct sunshine.
- Consult your local health practitioner for better advice on health-related matters.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR: TUESDAY 03 DECEMBER 2024

Morning: Relatively dry and mild conditions.

Afternoon: Sunny and very hot across the country.

Overnight: Mild with a starry sky.

Impacts & Actions to Take:

- Irrigate/water crops when heat-stress is noted.
- It is more advisable to irrigate early morning or late evening.
- Consult your local Agritex officer for sound advice on farming practices, including what to plant and the water requirements for specific plant stages.

Congratulations to the future planet
